

Loyola-bound Labadini honored; Yee will play in Title IX softball game

Tommy Labadini of Westford, a member of the Salisbury School lacrosse team, was named a High School All-American and Middy of the Year in the New England West Conference.

College roundup

Salisbury Prep in Connecticut was conference co-champion with Deerfield Academy and ranked No. 6 in the country. The conference is considered one of the strongest lacrosse leagues in the country.

Labadini will attend Loyola University in Baltimore in the fall. Loyola won the Division 1 national title.

Labadini attended Bishop Guertin High School before transferring and was first-team All-State and first-team Sun All-Star two years in a row.

Jen Yee, a graduate student and assistant softball coach at UMass Lowell, will represent Team Canada against the U.S. national team in an exhibition softball game Saturday, June 23 to air on ESPN at 7:00.

The game, to be played in Oklahoma City, is part of ESPN's week-end-long celebration of the 40th Anniversary of Title IX.

Senior Angus MacDonald (Methuen) and sophomore Scott Boiko (Chelmsford) were named to the Capital One 2012 Division II Academic All-America Track & Field Teams.

MacDonald was named to the First Team while Boiko was cited to the Third Team.

Nine UMass Lowell student-athletes were named to the 2011-12

Hockey East All-Academic Team, as announced by the conference.

Making the team were sophomores Marc Boulanger, Doug Carr, Josh Holmstrom, Joseph Pendenza (Wilmington), Chad Ruhwedel and Shayne Thompson, senior Matt Ferreira and freshmen Tyler Brickler and Zach Kamrass.

Chris Brown of North Chelmsford, a senior at Brandeis who won the 800 and 1,500 meters at the University Athletic Association finals and was named the New England Division III Runner of the Year was saluted in Sports Illustrated's "Faces in the Crowd" section this week.

Registration is open for UMass Lowell baseball's Summer Vacation camp, for kids ages 5-12 at the Cushing Field Complex. The camp will offer two sessions that span four days each, running from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. The sessions will run from June 25-28 and July 9-12. The four-day session is $225 with day rates available. Contact Keith Beauregard at 978-934-2344 or keith_beauregard@uml.edu.
